

友愛中華

China Outreach
MINISTRIES
Giving Christ to China's Future Leaders

"My house will be called a house of prayer for all nations..."
-Isaiah 56

Heidi's University of Washington China Outreach Ministries Newsletter September 8, 2011

Please Pray

Confucius said, "Wherever you go, go with all your heart." Thank God that He is showing me where and how to go at each turn. Pray for humility and diligence as I appreciate what's already happening in Seattle and learn from Rich and Joanna and others. Pray for our first weekly event for scholars (called "Talk Time") Sept. 22.

Learn With Me

- ❖ Mid-Autumn Day is coming up Sept. 12 this year (according to the lunar calendar). Families sit under the full moon, celebrate the end of the harvest, and eat mooncakes. Yum!

Expanding Dreams

If I invited you to come and talk to Chinese scholars about how your faith affects your work, would you do it? I've been dreaming lately about possibilities. What if every Tuesday a group of women came to my house to study Jesus' parables? What if we sat around the same table with Chinese sharing stories?

Needs & Opportunities

One of my first needs is to find partners who are willing to invest through monthly support. I have a long way to go, but the process is actually more of a blessing than the chore I thought it would be.

Already know you want to partner?
By mail: China Outreach Ministries
555 Gettysburg Pike Suite A-200
Mechanicsburg, PA 17055
Or online: \(click here\)

Other upcoming opportunities:

I'm forming a "launch team" ☺ of people to meet monthly to pray and share ideas. If you're intrigued, contact me and I'll let you know more about it. I'm in the process of organizing our first meeting for September 28.

谢谢!

(Xie Xie / Thank You for all the encouragement!)